

PRESS RELEASE

BANFF CENTRE MOUNTAIN FILM FESTIVAL WORLD TOUR 2024

GET READY FOR THE BEST ADVENTURE
AND MOUNTAIN FILMS OF THE YEAR.

The BANFF tour is arriving from Canada to ignite your passion for mountain sports and adventure at its German premiere in Munich on 14 February 2024. Get a first look at what the 2024 program has to offer. One highlight is the film Subterranean, in which two spelunkers—Katie Graham and Frank Tuot—venture into what is probably the deepest cave in British Columbia. Diving equipment required.

But that's not all. As a teenager, Mustafa Ceylan exchanges his soccer cleats for ski boots, and today his entire life revolves around his passion for freestyle skiing; a group of freeriders takes us into the mystical world of the Kyrgyz nomads; and Sébastien Bouin shows us why he is one of the three best climbers in the world through his first ascent of the 'DNA' route in the Verdon Gorge.

Following the German premiere in Munich, the BANFF CENTRE MOUNTAIN FILM FESTIVAL WORLD TOUR 2024 can be seen at more than 90 events in Europe. In addition to returning to Germany, Austria, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Belgium, and Luxembourg, the tour is also coming to Liechtenstein and Slovenia this year for the first time. This year's tour program includes five films. With moderation and intermission, each event lasts between 2.5 and 3 hours.

BANFF CENTRE MOUNTAIN FILM FESTIVAL WORLD TOUR 2024 - PROGRAM

MUSTAFA CEYLAN

Ciao soccer pitch; hello snow park! If it had been up to his father, Mustafa Ceylan would definitely have become a famous footballer. But when Mustafa discovered skiing at the age of 15, that was no longer an option.

SUBTERRANEAN

Cave explorers Katie Graham and Franck Tuot want to find the deepest and longest cave in British Columbia. Along with two teams, they embark on a multiday underground expedition.

BANFF CENTRE MOUNTAIN FILM FESTIVAL WORLD TOUR 2024 - PROGRAM

CHRONOCEPTION

A group of freeriders seek adventure in Kyrgyzstan. Fascinated by the mighty peaks of the western Tian Shan mountain range, they take on an arduous journey through the endless expanses of the Kyrgyz Steppe, a vast region of open grassland.

DESERT WINGS

Six paragliders attach a paramotor—an ultralight backpack-style engine—to explore and capture the most dramatic and stunning desert landscapes of the American Southwest.

REEL ROCK: DNA

Futuristic, absurd, next-level: French climber Sébastien Bouin achieves the first ascent of the 'DNA' route in the Verdon Gorge in southern France.

CROSS COUNTRIES

Kilian Bron takes us on a journey across North America—by mountain bike, of course—from Sedona via Squamish and Grand Junction to the urban jungle of New York City.
